WM2090 Non-Viable Cell Pellet

Overview

Description:	WM2090 Non-Viable Cell Pellet - WM2090-03-0005
Item No.:	WM2090-03-0005
Size:	5 million cells
Origin:	Human

Product Details

Background:	Non-viable cell pellet was generated from cell line WM2090. WM2090 is a metastatic human melanoma cell line. This cell line features the specific V600E (Val600Glu) mutation at codon 600 in the BRAF gene. This mutation causes constitutively active kinase activity and activation of MEK and ERK signaling pathway. WM2090 cells produce xenograft tumors when injected into immunocompromised mice.
Synonyms:	Melanoma, patient derived tumor, tumor models, skin cancer, xenograft
Species of Origin:	Human

Target Details

Purity/Specificity:	Cells were grown sub-confluent to approximately (2x10^6) cells in Tumor specialized media and then trypsinized. Cells were harvested and cell pellets were flash frozen and stored at -80°C.

Application Details

Application Note:	Frozen non-viable cell pellets can be used for in vitro experiments such as Western blotting and other immunoassays, genomic DNA isolation, STR profiling, and RNA isolation.
Assay Dilutions:	All assays should be optimized by the user. Recommended dilutions (if any) may be listed below.
